What is the Rwanda stand-alone solar market update?

Photo courtesy of Ignite Rwanda The Rwanda Stand-Alone Solar Market Update is one of a series of 14 national briefings published by the Africa Clean Energy (ACE) Technical Assistance Facility (TAF) to give stakeholders a snapshot of recent developments in the stand-alone solar sector, including those arising from the COVID-19 pandemic.

How much solar power does Rwanda have in 2022?

According to the International Renewable Energy Agency (IRENA), Rwanda had around 25 MW of installed solar capacity at the end of 2022. No new PV capacity has been deployed in the sub-Saharan country over the past three years. Total power generation capacity currently stands at just 259 MW and only 35% of the population has access to electricity.

How much does a solar system cost in Rwanda?

For example, lighting expenditure on average does not exceed USD1.8 per month, but because the minimum standards require larger, high-quality systems, the lowest-priced pay-as-you-go (PAYG) SHS currently available in Rwanda costs USD3.9 per month. Affordability remains a key hindrance to the adoption of stand-alone solar (SAS) products.

Does Rwanda have a PV rooftop system?

The PDP team in Rwanda has pre-developed a PV rooftop system for King Faisal Hospital in Kigali, with a planned combined output of 432 kW. However, due to limitations on capacity, only 50 kW was installed. The European Union and Rwanda recently signed an agreement on sustainable and resilient value chains for critical raw materials.

How has the energy sector changed in Rwanda?

The most significant recent change to the institutional environment governing the energy sector was the creation of a new agency- the Rwanda Inspectorate, Competition, and Consumer Protection Authority (RICA). Although established by law in 2017, it became active in 2020.

Can a friendly regulatory environment speed-track solar adoption in Rwanda?

A friendly regulatory environment deserves credit for helping to fast-track the adoption of solar, according to local analysts. Rwanda is rich in renewable energy resources, but the cost of capital and the low price of electricity from the grid are slowing down development.
